

Goldsmith terror laws quit threat

Wednesday, 21 November 2007

Goldsmith terror laws quit threat

'Ex-Attorney General Lord Goldsmith has told MPs he is "not persuaded" of the need to extend detention without charge beyond the current 28 day limit.

And he said he would have resigned had Tony Blair's government succeeded with their attempts at 90 day detention.'

Read more ...