A Reply To Irresponsible Reporting

The following statement was sent to us.. It is found on a Geocities website, which we do not link to due to the mindless and trash popup advertising. The author/owner of the site goes by the handle man-in-black.

"Native America's Most Wanted

http://www.geocities.com/man_in_black529/rogues.html

David Icke

Oddly, Icke isn't simply interested in Indians. Icke is more of a conspiracy theorist. Icke blames Britain's problems on Jews, pedophiles, the Illuminati, and reptiles from the Draco constellation. Reading one of Icke's works requires a lot of imagination. Icke's racist beliefs have actually had him protested, for obvious reasons. His site is DavidIcke.net for those interested in paying him visit."

This webmaster's reply:

I don't understand this connection with David Icke.. By innuendo from the front page of the site David is linked to New Age Spiritual Misappropriation...(whatever that is?)

He rejects the New Age tag entirely and has broken on many occasions with their concepts...On the other hand when their concepts mesh, they support each other.. David Icke does not like to be tagged by anyone other than himself.

David personally dealt with the Lakota tribal authorities during the struggle they had recently to make sure that the truth on all sides was being presented accurately..

He just offered to send a set of books to the Lakota tribal library (if they have one)

David had articles against the John McCain rape of Indian homes and lands..

He is one of the few that printed the story of the Catholic massacre of Indian children in Canada.. with the Canadian Reptilian government covering it up since they were participants in the rape of the Indian children..

When he tried to assist a young boy being molested at KinderCare -- Zack-- None of the tribes show up enmass to protest.. So the Indians simply don't care when a white boy is raped? This kind of logic is what that yahoo/geocities site is presenting.. It's false on its face...

David published articles on this site in SUPPORT of the release of Peltier.

Why isn't this geocities site reporting these Indian atrocities? Instead of tearing down people that do????...

So to me it seems rather obvious the author of this crap has not done his homework or investigated these false allegations whatsoever.. They could not even get the main domain of this website correct...

The David Icke sites repeatedly point out in articles, that the US treaties are not to be trusted -- they are only paper lies.. evidenced by the Indian treaties..

The geocities/yahoo site states "it takes a lot of imagination to read David's site"... Well it does take a lot of imagination and understanding to read the testimony of Geronimo-- and yes we here DO understand what Geronimo was speaking of.. and the Geronimo notes on reptilians are printed on the site.. The Geronimo material was sent to David by a wisened native American.

NOT one question regarding this geocities article was ever tendered by anyone in authority from any tribe or by the author of this libel to David or through his website..

So it is only disinformation and lies.. How could anyone know whether David cares or 'is interested' if they never bothered to ask him...If the author of that crap expects David to know every detail about the Indian problems in the US -- then he/she is as looney-tunes as they come.. Since David was not raised or schooled nor does he live here in the US.. how could he possibly know all the terrors that Indians experienced or the entire history of every American Indian problem?

David's site did publish an article on the rape of the Indian oil rights in Oklahoma. With great respect, the site has published several pieces on the Hopi elders and Hopi prophecies.

I think you'd have to say that David loves all HUMANS -- including the American Indians -- but he doesn't have to focus on those problems facing the American Indian -- he focuses on the problems that are facing ALL OF US..

WE ARE ALL IN THIS TOGETHER.

In response to the 'being protested' -- the lack of integrity becomes apparent when you read these articles --- available 24 hours a day -- right here at www.davidicke.com --

Why did the author of this trash not state 'in fact' just what are David's 'racialist' beliefs? From what I've read and witnessed -- David has none.. I think I might be closer to the source than that author.

That geocities author has, apparently, not bothered to read David's works -- before spouting off in libelous and slanderous statements. If anything -- (I read David's books)-- he states emphatically that there is NO Jewish plot -- that the Jewish people have suffered more under the dictatorship of the elite than any other people. 2nd in line might be the native Africans-- followed by the native/indigenous North and South Americans.

In closing-- readers of this site... KNOW what the men in black represent...

Other than the geocities article above .. the rest is the research, conclusions, and opinions of the webmaster of www.davidicke.com and not the statements of David Icke.
