

'Back from dead' case stuns doctors

Thursday, 12 June 2008

'Back from dead' case stuns doctors

'The case of a man whose heart stopped beating for 1-1/2 hours only to revive just as doctors were preparing to remove his organs for transplants is fuelling ethical debates in France about when a person is dead. The 45-year-old man suffered a massive heart attack and rescuers used cardiac massage to try and revive him without success before transferring him to a nearby hospital.'

Read more ...