

Council uses terrorist snooping powers on 900 members of the public

Monday, 14 July 2008

Council uses terrorist snooping powers on 900 members of the public

'A council has carried out more than 900 surveillance operations on staff and members of the public using a law introduced to fight terrorism.'

This is what all the 'anti-terrorism' laws are really aimed at - the general population.

Read more ...