

French Comic Forced To Apologise For Telling The Truth About 9/11

Friday, 12 September 2008

French Comic Forced To Apologise For Telling The Truth About 9/11

'France's favourite stand-up comedian has been forced to apologise for claiming that the 9/11 terrorist attacks on the US seven years ago tomorrow were an "enormous lie" orchestrated by the American government. The allegations by Jean-Marie Bigard have caused consternation in France because the comedian - who specialises in foul-mouthed, scatological and sexist humour - is a close friend of President Nicolas Sarkozy. On a radio show last Friday, the comedian interrupted a discussion on American politics, to say that it was "absolutely sure and certain" that the US government had stage-managed the 9/11 attacks in which 2, 896 people died'

Read more...