Dangerous Kabbalah Teachings Tout "Inducing Schizophrenia"

'Cults, especially those in Hollywood, such as Kabbalah and Scientology, regularly operate to bilk the public out of money, via a so-called leader that employs manipulation, flattery and eventually subtle brainwashing. They breakdown the victim's thought process via psychobabble, sleep deprivation (including bombarding them with calls that keep them up at night), chanting exercises and sometimes drugs, to make their minds more malleable. They solicit large donations, stocks, bonds, physical property and intangible assets from cult members, who often don't realize they are in a cult.'
