Illuminati Will Pretend to Lead Resistance to NWO

'Secession has been a verboten issue in the United States since the end of the Civil War. Any group who've brought it up have been targeted by press and government as 'militant fringe groups" All of a sudden in 2009, we're seeing it endorsed by career politicians in several states simultaneously, and the media is giving them good press. Last week, Rick Perry, Texas Governor since George W. Bush's departure in 2000, raised secession by Texas from the Federal Union at a Ron Paul type 'Tea Party" to protest Federal spending and the tax burden on the little guy.'

I have been making this point myself recently. The agenda is to break up countries into regions under the heel of superstates like the American Union which, in turn, would answer to the world government. It is in the interests of the Illuminati, therefore, to see the break up of the federal US.
