

Bureaucrats Will Carry Out Mandatory Home Inspections Under Climate Bill

Friday, 03 July 2009

Bureaucrats Will Carry Out Mandatory Home Inspections Under Climate Bill

'The controversial climate bill that is set to be taken up by the Senate on Monday after its passage in the House will legislate home inspections by government regulators who will demand to audit every aspect of your property under the threat of substantial and repeated fines if their visits are denied or their demands not satisfied.'

Read more...