THE SAME OLD TERRIBLE STORY OF LIVES RUINED BY THE SATANIC ABUSE OF THE RICH AND FAMOUS

This story was sent anonymously:

In 1980 I was living in East Anglia [in England] having been involved in the local scout group. One day a neighbour told me that her husband was encouraged to join the Masons as a means of furthering his career. Later he was invited to a church service with a hint that this could help his promotion prospects.

The church, built in the Middle Ages, was isolated and had not been used for many years until restored at the expense of the Masons. It had been officially re-dedicated by an Anglican vicar.

She [the neighbour] described a Satanic ritual in which her husband was forced to participate. A child was raped on the altar, the throat cut, the blood collected in a chalice, then passed round to be drunk. He was forced to do this after threats. His wife said that there was nothing he could do.

Anyone would think that he could have gone to the police. The fact is he was a police officer, an inspector. Most of the senior officers were there, two of the most senior had physically restrained him when the abuse was taking place. The child had been brought from another area by an officer.

It then became clear to him why he had been passed over for promotion several times by officers with less experience than he had. To get promotion he had to become a tutor at the police college, living away from home for two years. They were then forced to promote him under the rules. He reasoned that anyone promoted within that division was involved in Satanism. Only those officers who had transferred in were (possibly) not.

She [his wife] told me some of the others involved; those that I knew or knew of. He was told that if he wanted further promotion he would have to join them. Some of those involved were:

The headmaster of the local school that my children attended; another teacher at another school; a local doctor; a retired RAF officer; several other residents in the area; the chairman of a TV company; an MEP (member of the European Parliament); the son of an MP (this indicates the father's involvement); an assistant Chief Constable of a neighbouring county; a retired C of E bishop (involved before his retirement!).

The body of the child was taken away by a local landowner for use by his wife. He was one of the largest landowners in the area, director of a well-known national company, county councillor, magistrate, district councillor for the scouts (how I knew him).

He had been an officer in a guards regiment, being guard of honour to the Queen Mother at the Coronation. His wife was a Lady in Waiting. I had seen her at an event for local youth organisers one summer evening and although the sun was going down she was finding it very uncomfortable, having to close her eyes. A young scout leader who worked as a gardener at their country mansion told me that there was a machine for grinding bones, the particles being used as fertiliser.

The man who did the ritual killing worked for the same organisation as myself although in one of the lowest positions. He held chairmanships in the Labour Party at constituency and county levels and in the trade union I was a member of. He spent his weekends at a country mansion as a "guest" of a titled gentleman. It was said that he had been put in charge as he had ritually killed his own daughter. I then concluded that several of his colleagues were also Satanists, one was also a union and Labour Party secretary and magistrate.
