The Signs, They Are A Changing
Sent in by Guy Ottaway

Hi, I took a great interest in the symbolism of the illuminati having had careers in both the military and the police service (total Masonic control!).

In regard particularly to those of large corporations, over recent years I have noticed a particular switch in style. The logos of the petroleum and communications industries have taken on a new slant. (See images). They appear to be indicating a successful 'Global' phase of ownership/control.

Thank you for opening my (real) eyes.

Keep up the great work
