Outline

Introduction: not intended to be an exhaustive study &ndash; only just pulling back the veil from the edge of the illusion &ndash; I do believe in higher consciousness, just not in cults that prey on our desire for it &ndash; open mind: quotes about following the trail of truth &ndash; these words can either feed your self-image or be a tough standard you live by &ndash; Don't take refuge in &ldquo;but it couldn't possibly be&rdquo;; why not? Because of your assumptions. Examine why this can't be: because others aren't saying it's so? Because you can't see it visually? No one said gravity existed until Galileo, but was it not there all along? You can't see gravity: does that mean it doesn't exist? Open your mind: don't be like our parents were intellectually &ndash; closed to all reality except what they came to believe in when they were young. Consider all possibilities! The truth shall make you free!

1. What happened? We went from starry-eyed ex-hippies working for world peace to seekers of self-annihilation, spiritual elitists, and intellectual fascists &ndash; show the differences between now and then &ndash; how I became aware of this &hellip; Tolle, Katie, Mike Emery and predestination (Sai Baba)

2. TM community revisited: what I found when I returned after 20 years: quarreling over teachers, nihilism &ndash; neo-advaitinism, gurus everywhere-visiting town; elitism, fascism (MMY and satsang, Amanda and her knowledge of Hitler), stories of sexual misconduct by my old guru

3. Why I got thrown out of satsang (my questions): I started examining the god/guru/enlightenment connection &ndash; why I was given a meaningless word that was actually a prayer word &ndash; why does meditation make people weak, fanatical, proselytizing, reclusive, dependent, unable to form strong desires and ideas, etc. &ndash; increasing of worship aspect over time (Veda reading, chanting, advanced techniques, gods on walls, told to say god&rsquo;s name every minute, guru the incarnation of god [Amma] &ndash; gods must be more important in the enlightenment process (puja on first day) than we realized: what&rsquo;s their real role in the enlightenment journey? &ndash; is enlightenment as currently being a defined a good thing? Do we really want to lose the ego? Is the ego only a distortion of Self and a product of space/time involvement? Is there really no individual soul? Can we really never change our problematic character traits? Can people really be enlightened and sleep with their disciples? &ndash; isn&rsquo;t the enlightened attitude a set-up for taking no initiative in this world, and doesn&rsquo;t abandonment of social responsibility open the door for someone else to direct the course of one&rsquo;s life? &ndash; could there be someone who is well-served by persuading the brightest and best to abdicate responsibility, a someone who can then take charge and run the world as they like? &ndash; conspiracy: naïve to think people are capable of all other atrocity but somehow not capable of conspiracy &hellip; history is rife with conspiracy &ndash; if someone wants this, who? The gurus seem to want it, and they worship the gods. The trail leads to their door.

4. Who are the gods really? (Answer atheist&rsquo;s objections: we only see small percent of what&rsquo;s out there. Don&rsquo;t have to believe in God to acknowledge paranormal phenomena (like ghosts or ESP) &hellip; isn&rsquo;t it rather ethnocentric and condescending to insist on interpreting the stories of ancient cultures as myths? &ndash; keep an open mind, even if there are no gods, evidence indicates something is manipulating large numbers of people (meditators) to be passive, so read on) What most TM meditators believe (impulses) &ndash; Sitchen&rsquo;s archeological evidence of gods &ndash; same group of beings in all religions/cultures &ndash; all want sacrifice, blood &ndash; in Indian tradition, the one modern culture where gods are seen as more than myth, the gods are very bloody, Kali with necklace, Krishna with gore on teeth &ndash; in Christianity, Jehovah ordering slaying of nations, all the wars fought for religion: gods or God seen to be a bloody lot, if looked at without dogma-filter &ndash; could it be the gods are real interdimensional beings who feed on human energy? Old idea of possession, being fed off of; we think of the gods as myth/ even the TMers who feed them are told they aren&rsquo;t real people but impulses/ the fact that mantra meditation is worship is disguised: why the subterfuge? If you want to steal from someone on a regular basis, the best way to do it is pretend to be a friend, win their trust, steal small amounts at a time, and disguise what you&rsquo;re doing

5. Proof is in the pudding: Does the theory fit reality? &ndash; people claiming enlightenment fit description of possession: I do not exist and I never existed (Ron&rsquo;s guru), quotes by NeoAdvaitins, quote about murder being will of God, story about guy who quoted that, moment of release: of what? Of will? Seems so, Rick on retreats: blissful, cold, former life (love) feels like a dream &ndash; if such beings exist and are feeding on meditators&rsquo; energy, luring them into surrendering their will, is there evidence they are operating thru the realized (the possessed) in life-damaging, self-serving ways? MMY and the kings, gurus exploiting disciples for sex and money, Rajneesh and Sai Baba and alleged murders, Amma and money/dead bodies, Nazi Germany: Nazis on international staff, my expulsion from the satsang, realized disciple becomes new guru recruiting new disciples (future meals for the god), Amma&rsquo;s possession: that whole experience, Spero and his political assaults, the indifference of the enlightened opening the door for the gods to take control with no one stopping them &ndash; if indeed the gods are real and there are interdimensional beings manipulating mankind thru New Age spirituality, it&rsquo;s reasonable to guess they have methods other than this one for manipulating our world: any such indications? New World Order in all its growing manifestations, growth toward a world in which their offspring (divine right kings) control every aspect of life on earth &ndash; bring out about microchipping, history and growth of UN, alleged connection of national leaders with Satanism

6. Conclusions: something is manipulating millions (?) of people to surrender their mind, will and ego to a force outside themselves, using the name of a god. This is causing apathy, indifference, abdication of responsibility, elitism, fascism, etc. &ndash; Much evidence exists for gods being real, and if they are, they clearly want control of mankind through control of the human mind and will. If gods are only myth, there is still something that is pressing for the surrender of the human mind and will. (Note: Christianity has same tendency &ndash; in last era especially, it promoted self-denial as spiritual growth; now rallying cry is surrendering yourself to Jesus &ndash; some real question about who Jehovah was, and who Jesus was [read Rex Deus and The Bible Fraud] &ndash; why is someone telling us to surrender to this person, a man who supposedly is God? Is that really different from the Amma rallying cry? It&rsquo;s giving your power away, your spiritual authority. Better to know that you are God, in individualized form, and never remand your personhood to anyone.) New Age spirituality is only one aspect of a broad plan that is endeavoring to control every area of society.

7. What can be done: call back your soul (reference Native American beliefs) and it will have to return to you. Stop doing mantra meditation, bow downs, pujas, chants and satsangs. Stop thinking you have no soul and wanting to detach from your mind and desires. Stop thinking everything you or others see in visions is real. Stop relying on tradition, when all it's yielded is continuing misery on earth. Start demanding better explanation so reality and real solutions for suffering and lack. Learn to locate the eternal and universal part of you without paying toll in the process. Learn to consciously create reality, and start creating a world that is free.

8. How to defeat the NWO on the material level of life: (getting informed [suggest Icke, Alien Agenda, Gods of Eden, Transformation of America, Rex Deus, The Bible Fraud], talking about it, insisting on autonomy &ndash; the principle that 5 percent can't control the world unless 95 percent let them; how the American Revolution was won with the support of only a third of the colonists &ndash; the Rosa Parks Factor: the grain of rice that tips the scale) &ndash; the alien connection: don't let it throw you if you come to believe it's there &ndash; so what if there's another level in the hierarchy (it's beneath the one you're already aware of, the gods) &ndash; the aliens, if real, are another intelligent life form, nothing more or less &hellip; some are benevolent, some are self-serving, some may be cruel; they deserve no more fear than any other intelligent life form, and as much respect as any other intelligent life form. To open one's mind to accept the possibility of intelligent alien life forms on earth, and then to decide these beings are "the enemy" is not to have opened one's mind at all. It is to become a zealot, a fanatic, and zealots of any doctrine leave injustice and suffering in their wake. Better to regard even people who act as enemies as our confused and frightened brothers and sisters. An insistence on personal freedom but also a sense of brotherhood is needed to right the balance of a predator/victim relationship. Define the limits, but forgive the person who has crossed them. This applies to the gods, too.

9. Consciously creating reality: how to do it, how to deal with the gods, the aliens and the NWO in consciousness &ndash; a vision of a better world, healing compassion, self-autonomy, how to meditate in freedom

10. Vision for a better world: creating a utopia of freedom, plenty, immortality, harmony and highest consciousness for all beings &ndash; based on the world's ability to change itself at the quantum level of reality
